Prophetic Evangelism Made Simple: Prophetic Seed Sowing

Synopsis

Matthew Payne certainly has quite the ministry and knowledge of Prophetic Evangelism and in his new book Prophetic Evangelism Made Simple, he showcases it all in a nonthreatening, accessible format. If you have ever wanted to get into the Biblical habit of prophesying, then this book is for you. If you have ever heard the voice of God, then you need to pick up this book. Payne even makes a rock solid argument why every Christian should learn to walk in the prophetic and practice prophetic evangelism in everyday life, and it's surprisingly easy. Payne lays out a step by step approach to prophesying on the streets, giving guidance to the inexperienced and encouraging the experienced to continue in the Lord's work. Payne takes you through his own personal journey on the way and shows you how to overcome fear, inexperience, and the lies you have told yourself or others have told you. The book ends in an unconventional, yet special way. After he prays a special impartation prayer, Payne gives his own personal email address and Facebook page for you to contact him and practice your newfound skills in prophecy on him. Payne highly recommends both the books called "Prophetic Evangelism" by Mark Stibbe and Simon Peter, also. "Prophetic Evangelism Made Simple was unusually straight forward and understandable for a book dealing with such a complex topic. I think that anyone would be able to understand the text, even someone that has just heard the Gospel message." Jeannie Ingraham Religion and Philosophy writer: Global Intrigue. This is an 146 page book. If you enjoy this book, could you please take 5 minutes and write an honest review of it for others to read. Take caution! Matthew Robert Payne's "Prophetic Evangelism Made Simple: Prophetic Seed Sowing" makes readers want to hit the ground running in sharing God's heart with the masses. The author writes in an easy-flowing format with a simple sentence structure that makes it easy for people of all ages to understand. Through stories and ample instructions, Mr. Payne's book demystifies prophetic evangelism and encourages all to be open in hearing God's voice, and to stop for the one He puts in our path. His compassion is visible on every page, and this is possibly the best training for on-the-street prophetic evangelism on the market today. Get this book, apply the lessons, and you won't be disappointed.

In this day and age of cell phones and instant messaging we all want an easy way to stay in touch and encourage those we love. God has his own instant messaging methods and if you want to see how he uses them and why you should be involved in relaying his encouragement then read this book. Matthew Payne is a simple man with a down to earth message about God's continuing love and affection for us. But, he is also regularly involved in relaying God's personal messages to us. Think of him as a brother who wants to keep the rest of us siblings up to date on Dad's direction and encouragement. While Matthew clearly loves hearing from our Father, he wants us to learn to hear and share Dad's instant messages as well. So, if you have ever wanted to really hear from God and pass along his timely observations, then read this book and share it. I loved it !

In this book Matthew Robert Payne teaches and encourages the reader how to move into the prophetic and be able to share the thoughts the Lord has for them. What I love about this book is it is not the typical street evangelism book, it is refreshing because it allows you the messenger to share the heart of the Father out of love without the pressure of leading people into the sinner's prayer. Matthew is very generous since he speaks from experience, giving you all the tips to be successful, activates you through a prayer at the last chapter and even encourages you to contact him and prophesy to him to hone your prophetic gift. It's a book that you will not keep on your shelf but you can apply for God's glory for the rest of your life.

This book has been hands down the best prophetic training manual for use in evangelism that I have read. Matthew lays down a simplistic methodology which begins with loving Jesus and loving people. His compassion for the lost and the saints in delivering "seeds" of the prophetic is real and honest. I recommend this book and its application for those desiring to evangelize God's way!

What an incredible encouragement! Reading this book helps you understand that prophesy is easy and exciting. The author has a deep understanding of the Holy Spirit and our role as Christians to the unsaved world. If we keep it about love, we can't lose! And the activation prayer at the end is fantastic. Everybody needs to read this before they hit the streets. It will really help.

This book is an essential for the Christian who has prophetic gifts but has never been sure what to do about them in real life. I cannot tell you what a help this has been to my life! I feel this book is a necessity as a part of every REAL Christians training in The Lord and doing what He said to do.

This book was very easy to read and was encouraging for the reader to step out and give prophetic evangelism a try. For a subject that may be intimidating or daunting to readers, the author creates a warm, friendly environment to dispel fear. He gives helpful tips and suggestions that one may have never even thought of. He has a very unique ending that really seals the instruction! The only criticism I have is that while I'm reading the book, I find myself wanting to know, "HOW do you DO it? Or how to you receive the prophesy from the Holy Spirit? He does touch on it nicely at the very end but for a Newby like myself, I'd love to see a little more on that piece of the puzzle. Nice read! Would definitely recommend to others.

Really great book for people who are gaining confidence in their prophetic ability. Has a good, easy to read nonreligious type of format. I like the part about how the enemy will always cause you to doubt your prophetic gift because it has so much power. The book however is not for people to just read it and move on with the rest of their life, it is for people who are going to apply what is written and take it too the streets and step out in faith. This book is written to conquer fear and step out of our comfort zone.
