Customer Reviews

I love this spelling book. It has 6 units, 6 different spelling lists in each unit. Each week it covers a different topic, such as phonics words spelled with c, k and ck, beginning br, gr, st and aw, adding s and es, adding ed and ing, long a, short a and o just to name a few. Each list has four pages of work related to the spelling list. On the first page it has your spelling list, each word has an included sentence using the word. It also included writing prompts, to write postcards, letters, news story, posters, book reports and so much more. The lessons are fantastic!The book includes added bonus pages. One of the bonus pages is a cute cutout for the child's birthday, includes candles to cut out and paste on. On the front of the cake the child can write their name, on the back they can write their birthday wish. It has other materials for Thanksgiving, Martin Luther King Day, field trip journal, Valentines writing prompts and more. There is a cross-curricular section in the back which covers social studies, health, science, reading, mathematics and work and play. This cross section also has 6 different lessons on each topic. I add one a week as bonus words. Just to give an idea in this section under health we have the topic, Food for You. In this section the bonus words are energy, fruit, cereal, healthy and vegetable. Your child is also prompted to add another word related to the topic. It is a lesson on choosing healthy foods, with a fact about bananas. In the lesson we break the words into syllables as well. In the back of the book there is a section of reference tools including Writers Handbook, Spelling Dictionary, Writers Thesaurus, English/Spanish word list and the Word Place. I find this section to be very valuable and useful. This section is great and helps you teach your child to write sentences, Thank You notes, stories, descriptive writing, persuasive writing and more. As you can see this book has a lot to offer, is well organized and teaches children in proper steps to become not only great spellers but writers. I am a home-school mom and have tried a few different curriculum's and this one is worth its weight in gold!

Excellent book! We homeschool and it's the best I've found yet. Much less complicated and more fun than All About Spelling

Love these books!!! They are actually so much more than just spelling but they include the spelling words in english, vocabulary, writing and Language Arts. They also show you all the words in cursive and in printed words.. Without cursive we cannot expect our children to read our historical documents. So pleased! I highly recommend these to home schooling parents! Repetition especially for struggling readers is so important! Wish I'd found these earlier. ~f~ ~ Å,~ Æœ~ Å

I purchased this as part of a homeschooling curriculum. My daughter used the 3rd grade spelling book from this same publisher and we were extremely impressed with it. This book is set up the same way. You have one page that shows the spelling words and has the child write them down using clues. Then another 3 pages that review the words using different types of activities. Doing one page per day allows the child to review the words each day and reinforces the spelling. I expect to use this line of books for years to come.

This spelling workbook is a great complement for my sixth grader daily spelling work. Fun exercises, interesting vocab facts! She has been enjoying it!

Excellent.

Ok

Good product!
