Saharish Arshad is a freelance children's writer. She has published numerous short articles and poetry for children in Little Explorers Magazine, a quarterly U.K. based publication for Muslim children. She is currently experimenting with worldschooling her own four munchkins and dreaming up new poems and stories with them. Elsa Estrada has a Degree in Fine Arts from La Laguna University, Spain, specializing in illustration. She is a London-based graphic designer and illustrator, actively working for over twelve years. Her illustrations represent hours of meticulous work, and the fine detail created is an expression of her dedication and passion.

Delightful book about a little boy who dreams of all the things he would rather be doing in Jannah, not cleaning his room being the top one! Very cute book with beautiful illustrations, love the representation of hijabi Mamas.

Parents need all the help we can get to encourage our kids to clean up their room. Reading this book to your child will get him to at least think about it!

A wonderful little gem in the Muslim kidlit market! With a rhyme that rolls off the tongue and unique and vivid illustrations, we join Musa as he childishly muses over the concepts of Jannah, good deeds, and Allah's love.
