Customer Reviews

"Wonderfully lovely, superbly sturdy and creative in charming new ways." Books4yourkids.com

Amélie Graux graduated from the National School of Decorative Arts in Paris. In addition to illustrating books, she has also designed for youth magazines.

Great book! A few translations are super proper like not necessarily the way common/native speakers would say things but are still correct. The pictures are super cute though a nice variety of touch and feel spots. Bought this for my 2 month old niece because of the nice big pages and being so basic she'll love it as her eyes start to focus!

1 and 1/2 yr old grand daughter really likes touch and feel book. This one is her very favorite, she will sit and look through it. She can turn the pages and likes that. Has lots to touch and feel in it. Best one of the touch and feel I bought her.

Very cute. Bought for a visually impaired child.

very hard to find a multilingual book. My wife is Mexican and I am French and we want our baby to learn english very soon so this book is a must have !The quality is really good Nice quality and the touchable pages are great but only one word per page. Not including the French and Spanish word but I thought thought there would at least be a sentence per page.

The touch and feel parts are super adorable! This book even keeps me interested and flipping back and fourth feeling all the different textures. My 6 month old enjoys this book very much so far! Wish they made more than two!

Both this and the "I love the eat" book are some of our favorites. They have very large textured areas for the baby to reach for, and pages that are easy for the baby to turn. I recommend.

Very cute. My 10 mo loves to flip the pages and feel the different textures. Great way to learn words in the two languages.
