Customer Reviews

BARBARA KRAMER began writing biographies for children and young adults after following the advice of another author who said, "Write what you like to read." She remembered how much she enjoyed biographies when she was a kid, especially stories about trailblazers such as Davy Crockett, Daniel Boone, and Elizabeth Blackwell. She decided that's what she wanted to write. Her subjects have included both historical figures and people in the news. She and her husband live in Iowa with their two cats. They also have two grown children.

Love National Geographic for Kids biographies, too!

This was a great introduction book to our communication changes unit in 2nd grade.

This National Geographic series of short little books are perfect for 1st graders. We try to read at least 2 per week.

Great book for my 2nd grade

Fails to mention AGBell stole his invention from an Italian scientist....
