Penguins Love Colors

Synopsis

Mama loves brightly colored flowers and her little penguins too! Tulip, Tiger Lily, Dandelion, Bluebell, Violet and Broccoli use red, orange, yellow, blue, purple, and green to color in their snowy world and paint a wonderful surprise for Mama. Will she know who painted what? Of course she will! But will YOU know? Simple language and arresting, graphic illustrations introduce readers to the six primary and secondary colors and the adorable antics of six creative little penguins. A lively text, asking children to participate by answering questions, makes this an engaging, heartwarming story that is perfect for bedtime, story time, or anytime.

SIX LITTLE PENGUINS love colors, and they also love their mama! In pictures as bright as sunshine, imaginative little penguins use bold splashes of paint to vividly transform their white, icy world . . . as they create a very special surprise for Mama. Si

Everything is black and white until six little penguins pick up their paintbrushes and change their snowy world into a colorful garden of flowers and rainbows! Come along with TULIP, TIGER LILY, DANDELION, VIOLET, BLUEBELL, and BROCCOLI, and join the fun! Do you think these six little penguins will make a mess? Guess!

I bought this used-it's just like new, arrived quickly and is a lot of fun to read! My granddaughter especially liked the flower choice for green!

This book is so cute! I bought it for my niece a year or so ago and she won't put it down. I think it was her favorite birthday gift! The story is great but the illustrations are absolutely AMAZING! I can't recommend this highly enough.

A fun little story about penguins and colors. Great story to read to inspire kids to write.

Love it for January art activity in First Grade

Brought to you by OBS reviewer Carol confess I chose this book because of the cover, but that is the designer in me. On the other hand, I really liked this short story. As the synopsis describes, the six little penguins love colors and when it comes to gifting their mother with a present, the little penguins put their imagination and creativity to work by using their favorite colors and brushes. I like the illustration and how each little penguin has its distinctive characteristic. The penguins are named after different colored flowers, but when they take off their colorful bonnets you can see that the top of their heads are different, just like how their eyes are never looking at the same direction, which makes them look comical. The book's recommended age is for children from ages four to eight, easy to read, follow, and interact with. The bright colors catch the eyes' attention and it helps children remember primary and secondary colors by relating them to different flowers. All in all, Penguins Love Colors is a good read and recommendation for any age reader with its attractive bright colors. P.S. Broccoli was my favorite name.

My two year old has asked to read this book everyday since we have had it. It is very engaging and fun to read. Six little penguins, each named after a colorful flower, want to make their mama something special. Their mama loves colors just as much as they do, hence their names. The little penguins decide to paint a picture to their mama's delight. Do you think the little penguins got messy? Paints, baths, and snuggles make this bright and cheery story great for toddlers. My son has been in a phase where he loves to name the colors of everything he sees and proudly shouts out each color that fills these vibrant pages. The way each color gets its own spread of pages makes this book a wonderful tool for learning. The book is written with loads of fun questions for your budding little artist, making it a delight to read and great for group story times.

Best illustrated children's book I've come across in years. Gorgeous color-rich illustrations and design and a super-fun and playful story that will delight kids and grown-ups alike! This is definitely going to be a huge classic that will last for generations to come....I'm in love!!

What a fun book! I can't pry it from my 3 year old's grip! She loves the big eyes and bold colors--her favorite image is of the 6 little penguins sliding down the hill to get their paints. Highly recommend this picture book!
