Customer Reviews

I bought this book for my mature 9 year old son who is a crystal child. He has been telling us about his guardian angels since he started talking. I previewed the book before I gave it to him because he's a little young for a teen book. There was only one page in the whole book that I thought was a little beyond him. He absolutely loves the book and it is helping him so much with his abilities. He has started meditating on his own!

I have bought this book for several teens that have lost a grandparent. I think it's really helpful and non-intimidating.

This is a great book for anyone at any age. It is designed for teens who are just getting started on their own life, dreams and desires. The rules of life given in this book apply to all of us. I figured out most of the rules on my own but it would have been helpful to have this when I was younger.

Great

It seems to benefit the parents as much as the child. Nice!

I am a Special education High School teacher, a hypnotherapist, Past Life Regressionist and like James Van Praagh, a psychic/medium. I have been asked by many parents and clients about their children and the subject of psychic abilities. I have found that many children are frightened by their innate abilities and so shut down or "vibe over" denying their abilities. Often, I have heard them describe what most of us adults call "a gift" as a curse. James Van Praagh has written a very child friendly book, explaining a deep, complex and sometimes frightening subject in a very interesting way. If you have a child who shows interest in the field of Metaphysics, this is a good book to give them and you can gain good insight from it too.

Absolutely a must for teenagers and adults alike!

Thoughtfully written for kids. Answers many of their questions in a way kids can understand. Thanks James!
