This is an excellent primer for helping would be drivers to pass the DMV PA license test. This was not for me. This was for a relative. Personally, I am 60 years old and have a commercial drivers license. I was surprised that when I took this exam a few days ago, I realized just how much I had forgotten over the years. The best way, in my opinion to study for this exam is to look at each multiple choice statement and find the correct response. Then what I did was to put each statement into a sentence. A couple of examples were - You should dim your bright lights when a car comes within 500 ft. -You can park within 30 feet of a stop sign, and so on. Then I typed each sentence onto a word document. I gave it to my cousin and he aced the test on his first try. I think it's only fair to say that this is no substitute for the study guide that is provided for free throughout the state offices. It is also available at virtually all auto tag/notary offices. If tests frighten you and you don't quite know what to expect, this Q&A sample test guide is a great primer for passing the PA DMV test.
