Love to Make August 2015 Search Press' latest new series of books is Mini Makes, a range of pocket sized books that cover various crafts in a nutshell. In this one Ms Debuissou shows how to make fifteen wee creatures out of chenilles (pipecleaners in the vernacular). Priced at under a fiver I can imagine these books making ideal stocking fillers, party favors, prizes and any other occasions that call for a small gift. With their board covers they are sturdy and packed full of information in about 60 pages.

This is a tiny, tiny book. I mean the actual dimensions and not just the length (pages). Therefore, it is difficult to read and impossible to hold open while you are working. The directions aren't very thorough either. Just a tiny, cheap publication.

This is a fun little book. And I do mean little. The photography is great and simple instructions yield adorable results.

Very tiny book hard to see and hold. Illustrations not easy to understand if you haven't done before.

Fun book we bought as a gift. The 8 year old enjoyed making the animals. One note - this book is very small (check the dimensions) - more of a stocking stuffer than a full size book.

Very nice little book with my favorite animals. Fast shipping very satisfied with book!

book is tiny and hard to read while crafting.

Very tiny book
