The Case Of The Green-Dressed Ghost (Dr Ribero's Agency Of The Supernatural)

Synopsis

Kester Lanner didn't know what to expect when he followed his mother's dying request to contact the mysterious Dr. Ribero, but he wasn't expecting to find his long lost father. Nor was he expecting to join the family business: catching supernatural spirits. Kester is intrigued despite his fear, and finds himself drawn into an ancient ghost story that will test the entire agency. He soon becomes enmeshed in a struggle with the spirit, who is so malevolent and haunting that his first real case might just be his last.

Customer Reviews

The main character vacillates way too much. The plot requires him to participate though he wants to leave. The resulting emotional flips are too rapid to be believed.

An enjoyable story with a refreshing main character who isn't the stereotypical protagonist; utterly perfect in every way! Our guy is pretty normal, aside from his unique ability to open doors.

This was a fun book to read. Likable characters and a good storyline. The pacing felt right as well, I really enjoyed it and am looking forward to her next book.

A very sympathetic hero who struggles to understand his role in a supernatural world he never knew existed. Good ghosts and good story.

Really enjoyed this book. The characters are interesting and the plot line was solid. Happy to read that it's going to be a series.

I liked it for the story line and I always like it when the hero is more scared than the rest of the characters. It was a simple, quick read that was worth what I paid. I look forward to a sequel.

Enjoyable

It was an overall fun read, though the main character's indecisive thoughts could be greatly edited down and the insistence on making all the characters unpleasant was tiresome.
