After his great-grandfather, the former prince something or another, passes and leaves him millions, he's shocked to discover the massive inheritance has a clause - he needs to clean up his image and be married in order to receive his millions. When word gets out that this hottie has royal blood running through his veins, and is on the prowl for Mrs. Right, crazy ex-girlfriends, school-yard crushes, and thousands of other hopeful women flock to his doorstep. What he needs is a manager to help him sort through the clutter. Enter Camryn Palmer, PR executive. Camryn has had a front row seat to her friend Sterling's revolving-door of a love-life for years. But when she's hired to clean up his image and manage the hordes of women cruising through his bedroom door, she's stuck between a rock and a hard place. Literally. I didn't love it but I also didn't hate it. I just found it to be a bit slow. There really wasn't all that much going on threw out the whole story. It was just so back and forth I started to grow bored. Spoiler beginning Also in the description they were described as "friends" but that isn't true. They hardly knew each other. Another thing that didn't make sense for me was there was no guide lines for the marriage so I didn't see what the big issue was with him and Cami. The friends and family made it sounds like they could never be together but he could have picked anymore. Then there was Anna.... really? A 20yr friendship and she just ups and does that to Cami? Great friend. End Spoiler lol Overall I did like the idea of the story and the chemistry between the characters. They seemed to be good together besides all the bs. And it had a nice happy ending.

Plain and simple, I loved this book. Sterling and Cami were great characters...he's a jaded divorce attorney who needs to marry quickly or forfeit a fortune, and she's been hired to find him a wife. The catch? They've been secretly attracted to one another for months. Their story had just the right amount of angst, humor and passion. No huge surprises, just an enjoyable friends to lovers tale that I devoured in one sitting. If you love Kendall Ryan, this is a book you don't want to miss!

Originally posted on Nalloreads.comARC received from InkSlingerPR for an honest reviewThis was my first Kendall Ryan book and I was not disappointed! Sterling Quinn is one tempting man and watching him attempt to win over Camryn Palmer was so entertaining. Sterling has a reputation for being a ladies man and isn't one to have issues spending time with a woman. But that may come to an end when he finds out that a multi-million dollar inheritance is headed his way and it has one condition: he's got to be married. Cameron Palmer makes it her business to handle any PR nightmare; and when Sterling comes up on her docket she realizes her crush on him may just get in the way of helping him find a wife. Sterling seems to have an innate ability to push Camryn at just the right time and to the right extent. He knows they need to work together but he can't seem to fight the attraction he has to her. The constant will they/won't they edge to the story kept me going the whole story. Camryn is completely relatable for me as far as how she needs to be independent after her showdown with her last ex. Trusting Sterling isn't something she can take lightly: she's known him as a womanizer and serial monogamist. But when he starts to show how he's enjoyed spending time with her in a non-sexual way, she can't help but imagine that there may be something there. The push-pull of her battling her feelings for him were nail biting. You knew how Sterling truly felt and you just wanted to shout at her to go for it!*SPOILER BELOW*Ryan completely threw me for a loop when Camryn's friend and assistant, Anna, decided to throw in her hat and try to date Sterling!! I was in SHOCK! Honestly I'm thinking "No way she's got to be up to something to help get these two together.. But no she just threw out the girlfriend code book and went gung ho. Touche, Ryan! you got me good! Absolutely going to add more of her to my future reading list! Until next review! XOXO Nalla

A very charming and low angst friends to lovers romance. The story was very addicting and flowed perfectly. I loved the characters. Both were very likable and the drama between the two was low and the chemistry was high. This is one of those great Sunday afternoon reads. The story was light-hearted and sweet. There were some moments of heartache or questionability on what would happen next but definitely nothing to get your panties in a knot. :-) I truly enjoyed both narrators. They were honestly amazing. They both told the story with just the right amount of emotion and passion. Sterling had the sexiest British accent and was so alpha male when it came to wanting Camryn. John Lange really made Sterling's character come alive!! Ava Erickson was brilliant! I loved her voice and the way she portrayed Camryn. She made Camryn come across as pure and sweet which is hard to find with female narrators in my opinion, so I highly applaud her. This British bad boy and his PR Executive learn what it's like to be between a rock and a hard place and it was extremely enjoyable getting to experience their journey at overcoming their obstacles to get to their happily ever after!! A Great Read that I highly recommend to all my fellow romance readers!!

Sterling Quinn is a sexy British Playboy who is a divorce attorney and Camryn is his friend and a PR exec who is hired to help him. I loved Sterling and Cami! Sterling is a sexy alpha and Cami is funny, charming and sweet! Such awesome characters. I loved Sterling and Cami's chemistry! They were awesome together! This was a spin off of Hitched. I haven't read that yet but I don't think it is necessary to read it first! I loved this book! It's a must read!

Such a fun, sexy, read!!! British - HOTTIE, Sterling Quinn is a '28 year old playboy who never thought about marriage and settling down. After his father ran out on his mother and himself, and being a 'divorce lawyer himself' his thoughts on 'happily ever afters' are just a big let down.. with his mother's health getting worse and having to put her in a 'home with more care to tend to her needs' he gets a phone call that changes his world... He has 6 months to marry and he will inherit millions.. with help from his friends, Noah and Olivia they send their 'PR person - and Olivia's bff, Cameryn to help find him a 'wife' (Sterling and Cameryn have met several times and there has always been 'chemistry' between them, he has never acted on them knowing she is a "forever kind of girl") the craziness of Sterling & Cameryn had me laughing a lot throughout this book.. I loved how Sterling could be naughty, gentle, witty, and Cameryn gave as much back as well.. the two were great pair ..
