66 Bible Books at a Glance

I ordered 2 pieces of this KJV Bible for my friend's birthday gift. I love the it's embroidered/emboss cover and and all of it!!! Very neat and elegant for girls like me Thanks ! See actual photos below..

This is a very nice Bible, It also has in the back a lot of info ex; key verses from each bible, timeline of important bible events, a Read-Through-The-Bible in a yr plan plus a lot more. The cover is really soft, The words are small but besides that, it's a very nice Bible. I would definitely recommend this Bible!

I'm reviewing two bibles, the pink KJV faux leather bible KJV DELUXE GIFT & AWARD BIBLE (DICARTA PINK) (King James Bible) and the green NKJV faux leather bible NKJV, Gift Bible, Imitation Leather, Turquoise, Red Letter Edition. SIZE: Both are 5.5" x 9" although the green one is slightly larger. MATERIAL: They are both supposed to be faux leather, but the green one feels more like leather than the pink one. BINDING: The pink one is poorly bound. It is not stitched at all and the spine is only glued onto the backing. The green one, however, is stitched and that stitching carries through to the spine so it's very well made. VERSION: I've found that there is quite a variety of KING JAMES VERSION bibles out there although they are all supposed to be KING JAMES VERSION. The pink one is supposed to be KJV but does not match up with my bible from 1992, also KJV. The green one is NKJV and much easier to read. FONT: The pink one is 6 point font. The green one is 8 point font. Big difference and yet the green bible is not really any thicker than the pink one. PAPER: Both have sturdy thick paper. You can underline and write in the margins and not worry about ripping the paper. MAPS: The pink one has no maps at all. The green one has two at the back of the bible in full color. They are gorgeous. STUDY GUIDE: The pink one has no study guide. The green one has a 32 page study guide which includes: parables of JC, miracles of JC, and a very large dictionary-concordance which I found fascinating (it includes photos too). GIFT PAGE: Both include a front gift page so you can gift it to someone. I didn't like that both gift pages are kind of stuck to the front end flap. EXTRAS: The green one had maps and the study guide listed above. The pink one has "66 Bible Books at a Glance" which is really nice, "Key Verses from each Bible Book" which was short and disappointing, "Timeline of Important Bible Events" which is one of the coolest "extras" I've ever gotten in a bible, "50 Old Testament Prophecies of Christ and their New Testament Fulfillment" which was interesting, "Important Names/Titles of God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit" which was also interesting, "25 Key Sayings of Jesus" which was okay, "25 Key Biblical Concepts" which was meh, "25 Great Promises of Scripture" which was also meh, a short dictionary-concordance with no pictures (the green one has pictures), and a One Year study plan for reading the entire bible which was disappointing. The green Thomas Nelson bible is made much better than the pink Barbour Publishing one, hands down. It's also much easier to read and the pages have gilded silver edges so it looks like a bible. The pink one is flimsy and put together with glue. The green Thomas Nelson bible is also easier to read. I now prefer the NKJV over KJV and I think there are a lot of bible publishers out there who are calling their bibles KJV when they vary slightly from the original KJV from the 90s. Extras: The dictionary-concordance (with pictures) and maps in the green Thomas Nelson bible are beautifully done. The extras in the pink Barbour Publishing bible are not. If I were to keep the pink one, it would be solely for the extras and not for the actual bible because I don't think it's going to last long at all with no stitching to keep it together. I purchased both bibles myself and they were on sale for $7.50 each. The best time to buy a bible is right before Easter, usually in March of each year because that's when people gift them to their nieces, nephews, children, and grandchildren.

It's a nice Bible overall, well built but it's not complete. I got this for my sister and we found that for Psalms it was missing chapters 11-41. It was very disappointing. Re-updated Our problem was taken into consideration and we were sent a new Bible and are very satisfied with it. My sister loves it!

THE PRINT IS A LITTLE SMALL, I WEAR READING GLASSES ANYWAY BUT, IT IS GORGEOUS. THE TEXTURE FEELS ALMOST LIKE ITS SUEDE, I LOVE IT!!!

Just the cutest Bible ever. The workmanship and quality are extraordinary (especially for such a reasonable price). Print is quite small but I can work with that. No regrets. Time to get some Bible study done!

I bought this for my daughter, and she loves it. The material used for the outside is very soft and flexible. A +

The reason I'm giving it a 4 star and not 5 is because the print is too small.
