INSIDEFLAP

Craig Jutila is the Children's Pastor at Saddleback Church in Lake Forest, California. Craig is an author and sought-after motivational communicator with intensely practical insights. He is also the founder of Empoweringkids.net, a company designed to provide relevant resources for children's leaders in the local church.

I loved this book! Craig is an awesome author and speaker and is very practical and relatable. Our personalities are similiar, so I totally get where he is coming from in a lot of his personal stories. The book is very reader friendly and flows well. This book was so complete in that it talked about Children's Ministrytips, Christian growth and leadership. It covered every area because they are all so important in a successful children's ministry! I so enjoyed this book and learned so much from it and I look forward to reading every other book authored by him. Must read for any Children's Ministry worker in whatever capacity you serve.

I loved this book! It has so much insight and great ideas for children's ministry. It is so short but it took me a month to get through because it had so much information! This is a must have for anyone in leadership in children's ministry.

Book was in great shape! Good book!

thank you very much it is good i can bye again from you when needed and sorry for responding so late and have a MERRY CHRISTMAS

There is some good stuff here in terms of motivating people. Yet, again, as I have found with so many Christian works designed for children and family ministry--its rather shallow. There is little substance here in terms of scholarly or biblical depth.

Craig has done an awesome job putting in to words what the heart of children's ministry leaders need. I loved this book so much I have purchased one for every member of my leadership team.Can't wait to go through it with them!

I had trouble leading my Children's Ministry group and I found this book which gives us a beginners direction. Its not a super brain twister to read. It is OK. Good job Saddleback.

This book gives you the "big picture" view of Children's Ministry. It touches and motivates the heart to first seek Christ in our own lives. Only then we can effectively serve His ministry. I highly recommend this book.
