Kenneth W. Estes, a 1969 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, served in a variety of USMC command and staff assignments until his retirement in 1993. I bought this book for the VP of the company that hired me after I retired after 24 yrs Active Duty

USMC. They had a policy of sending new hire Senior Staff to a $10K "Leadership Development Course". I tossed it on his desk & told him my last employer teaches the course content to 20 - 21 yr olds, not mid 40's executives. After the weekend, he & the president came to my office & agreed I didn't need the $10k course. EXCELLENT reading & life lessons.

Excellent product, very prompt shipping, bought as a gift for a friend.

A MUST for every Marine who wants to earn his chevrons and become a LEADER! It has also benefited me considerably in civilian life, as principles of leadership are just as important in the corporate world as they are in the military!

exactly what I wanted.

I give it to all my newly promoted NCOs

Really enjoy this book. Essential for Marine NCOs

As a Marine NCO, this book is a must have. Learning the history of the Marine NCO and talking about different styles of leadership are just small portions of this book. For new NCO's this is highly recommended. I buy this book and write a personalized message in the front for every Marine I have joining our sacred NCO ranks!!!

Tried and true principles of leadership
