it is an old book though, there are lots of thing to learn. I like the concept 'four season'and delivery was so faster than I expected..

it is really good book and it will give a great help of making a natural restoration for dental ceramist in any age periods.My colleagues and me love it very much.

Since the ancient ages, a tousand of men have tried to construct and replace missing teeth. Mr. Klaus Mutherthies really bring us his gift, showing impressive and beatifull techniques, making crowns as a nature architect. I recomend this book to all of the clinicans and dental technicians whom deserve special atention to their patients in respect to color and shape of the teeth, and try to transform a single piece of metal and ceramic in a lost memory of the past, to their patients. Congratulations too Quintessence , for his quality and loyalty with his public.
